Topics of the Day.

Mr. Asquith, M.P.

Mr. Asquith is Member of Parliament for Paisley. No election of recent years excited so much interest or produced such widespread satisfaction. The London correspondent of the "Manchester Guaror produced such wide-pread satuidation. The Londom correspondent of the "Manchester Guar-diam" says that a notable pillar of the Carlton Chub and Satur electors went to the poll, and Mr. Asquith's majority exceeded the best anticipations of his most ardent bigger, 11300; and Mackana 3705. The last-named was annexed that so few people had supported him Let us hope that he has last-rad diver again be a condiciate for Parliamentary honours he will mend and almost be regarded as a personal robuilt to the influence many votes. The smallness of the poll may almost be regarded as a personal robuilt to Mit perverted judgment, but he, no doub, like the pillar of the Carlton Chub, like the pillar of the Carlton Chub, like the pillar of the Carlton Chub, like the pillar of the Carlton Chub. The Liberty of the Subject.

In a speech characterised by great levity, Sir J. D. Rees, M.P. for Nottingham East, moved the following resolution :- " That this House, while not desiring to return to the pre-war hours of opening licensed premises, is of opinion that all vexatious and unnecessary restraints upon the liberty of the subject in respect of the atroph, an Longuet and consumption of alcoholic linuors should be abolished." Sir John said he knew there was a rod in pickle for him, but not only should he accept his chastisement with resignation, but would be ready to kits the rod. There certainly was a rod in pickle, and it was Laty. Acceled the stimulation of the same state of the House of Commons-was a triumph. It was marked by all the sparkle and vizatif to which she has accustomed us, but it was even more notable for its horning indipation at the ranges of this and its intense sympathy with its victims. She said: "I and the the the same should be about the same sympathy dealing with this matter to consider the children." necessary restraints upon the liberty of the subject

Lady Astor's Indictment.

If space permitted we should like to give the speech in full. We can, however, only give a few quota-tions. "Only the other day I stopped outside a public-house and saw a child of five waiting for its mother. Presently the mother recled out, and the oaths and curses of that poor woman, and the shrick of the child as it fled from her, are not cases to of the child as it fiel from her, are net cases to forget. I am thinking of the freedom of the children. The men will get their freedom. . . It was im-possible to reconcile the interests of the State with the interests of trade. . . . The Road to Reunion

The Road to Reunion. A conference was recently held at Oxford, when a series of resolutions were passed which it was heped would do semiching to pave the way to reunion. A who were present. These included some distin-ruished Primitive Methodists, but it does not appear it a these or any other of the signatories were acting in a representative capacity. There may be some value in such conferences, but we are not disposed to rate it as very high. We are confirmed in that view value in such onferences, but we are not disposed to rate it as very high. We are confirmed in that view parend in the "Times" on Saturday Tast. After quoting from the resolutions. It was an isolated accordance with tho resolutions. It was an isolated act of an individual, done not there undo due subortio the Jacomet the authorisation contemplated in the later paragraph. The Home Rule Bill.

The Home Rule Bill. This has now been introduced in the House of Gommons, and Gould The Dereman is a printed the Common and the Company is the study by Mr. Lloyd Gorge in the speech which he delivered to the eve of the adjournment of Parliament. It provides for the establishment of a Northern Parlia-ment, consisting of the counties of Antira, Armagh, Down, Fernanagh, Londonderry and Tyrone, and so Southern Parliament comprising all the sev and the Interiors of this and of the Parliaments are defined and limited. The contribution to the Imperial Exchequer is to be, for the first two years, £18,000,000 a year. It appears to be a Bill which no one wants. The Irish Press comments are generally unlavour-able, and some of them rank billebillowing the Bill becoming law in its present shape, and in the event of its doing so its very doublut whether it will be worked in the South. If on the one hand Sir Edward to exertiden, there would be hope for the distacted country.

BAZAARS & SPECIAL EFFORTS.

A successful sale of work was held at the New-road Church, Sowerby Bridge, opened on the first day by opening on the second day was performed do. Com-cillor Longbottom, under the presidency of M. B. Holroyd, and on the Saturday by the children. Children's concerts were given each evening and were much enjoyed. The financial result was very satis-much enjoyed. The financial result was very satisfactory, totalling £153.

Inter employed, Inflamatic Feshiw was very satis-tionry contacts and Mondary Inst. Sconwest-street Church, Abertillery, colebaried their church snni-versary. Ber. A. E. Reavier, of Oradity Hiesth, was the special preacher. Large congregations were da-lighted with his powerful sermons and ad-dresses. The P.S.A. on Sunday silernoon was a great service. On Monday evening Mr. W. J. Davies presided, and a special leature was the the stonelayers of 1376, and also a large photograph of one of the founders of the church, the late Mrs. Ann Prece-Edwards. This was performed by Mr. T. Cole. Rev. W. Lights from Side Windows.

I am indebted to the "Baptist Times " for two items which will be of interest to all Primitive Methodists. "An amusing thing happened in con-nection with the birthday of Sir William P. Hartley, which was celebrated on Monday. One of the Primi-tive Methodist Connexional Committees desired to tive Methodist Connectional Committee desired to felicitate him on the occasion, but as about of the members knew the exact date, and as, too, this is not given in 'Who' Who', they agreed to risk it. The separate the exact date was an exact the second second transpired it arrived as least ten days too scont. Six 'william's firends will be glad to hear that he has recovered from his recent indisposition. Few men of days does he take off for ordinary recreations. At the same turn be is able to keep his optimism at par. *

"Sir William holds one virtue that is not the usual possession of men with great wealth. He never grumbles at the payment of income tax. People who grumbles at the payment of income tax. People who know him, infimalely tell me that they have never heard him criticise this impost. If the regards it as the duty of the rich to make such contributions to the State, and adds, 'We may think ourselves fortu-nate that we sceape so lightly'. By the way, I have come across a new definition of a Christian: It is a man who makes a correct income tax retarn and never grumbles, and a woman who during the wat had no food heat."

It was with almost a sense of personal loss that I read of the death of Spencer Leigh Hughes, M.P. 1 nad never met him, and now greatly regret a lost opportunity Tonce had of hearing him speek. I, with many others, owe to him a debt of gratitude for many bright hour. He was a son of the Manse. His father was a Wesleyan minister. He was always greatly interested in the wellare of the Church of his parents. His humour was sparking and spon timeous, and the House of hour they will plant roses of his grave, so that he will still be "Sub Rosa." had never met him, and now greatly regret a lost

It has a big task before it. Mainly is is composed of laymen, with a few ministers who were pat no for advisory purposes. Nobody could say hat that they did their duty in full measure. We were glad to observe on this committees fagured much in denominational politics. It was im-pressed with the fact that there are harge undeveloped resources in the younger laymes, who showed both win and initiative, and who ought to be given a chance. Meantime, they have before them the biggest had to face. It is difficult to make the ordinary member of the Chroch understand that this is not primarily a minister's question, and that the present memore of the Untrod understand that thus is now primarily as minister's question, and that the present financial position is due to circumstances over which the present preachers had nothing to do. The the is, our Church was born in poverty and our fathers mortgaged the future to pay for the cradle.

Christian Endewoor has a glorious future. It all depends pon that. Christian Endewoor has done much during the past quarter of a centry for the young people of our Church and for the Church in general. I am only one of many who are in the ministry of our Church to-day who began to do Christian work in the Endewour, and the inspiration of those early days is still with me. Since 1906 the net increase of Church members, through Christian Endewour, has been about 6,000, which fully justifies its existence. But there is no getting away from the fact that there has been about 6,000, which fully justifies its existence. But there is no getting away from the fact that there are many societies to-day "carrying on " much as they did twenty years ago, and it is in such societies that the work of reconstruction needs to take place. The founder, Dr. Clark, never intended and does not wish that Christian Endeavour should be conducted in exceller the conducted in exceller the conducted wish that Christian Endeavour enough se conducted in exactly the same way to day and for ever as it was when it first began. Low vitality-that is the trouble with these nonwhirlers.

They haven't enough nerveforce - only enough to keep them languidly existing - no surplus for the fun of life.

Yet, if only they knew it, nothing is easier than to increase your nerve-force : Sanatogen does is - by 63 per cent. in six weeks.

That isn't a mere advertising statement. It was proved at the International Medical Congress, which awarded Sanatogen its Grand Prix - the highest medical honour on record.

Think what it means - this huge increase in the drivingpower of the human machine -the ultimate source of all activity, mental or physical !

But don't imagine you can get that result from the occasional, half-hearted use of Sanatogena dose now and then, when you happen to think of it.

You must take it regularly, per-sistently — make an everyday habit of it—for forty-two days in succession —and no more think of missing it than you would an ordinary meal.

The Gospel of Other Days. WILL IT MEET TO DAY'S NEEDS?

By Rev. JOSEPH PEARCE.

To ask if the Gospel of other days will meet the not unfair. The President cannot change code of our own is to accept the implication lumanity, but Christ can! He can fill the world als hitherto, in eras and circumstances most with the browlets examples of character. We are needs of our own is to accept the implication that hitherto, in eras and circumstances most diverse, it has proved blessedly effective for doing the work it originally set out to do. It came with its doctrine of the new wirth, its miracle of a new oreation, its offer of supernatural grace to implant and sustain a heavenly life, and surely the centuries furnish indubitable evidence that it has been the regenerator of the human intellect as James Martineau declares, the lever of hife as Levely maintains, whilst as Dr. T. R. Glover holds "the Lamb of God has taken away the sin of the world to a degree that no one can imagine who has not studied the ancient world "; and, further, has created a Church which has been, and remains, the mightiest force known among men for promoting national betterment and the establish-ment of a true Christian order all over the world.

Now that is the thrilling story of all the yesterdays, and poor indeed are we if we have not had first-hand evidence of the unrivalled power of the Gospel when proclaimed either by others or ourselves. There must be many whose yester-days of soul-winning are their most fragrant and exhilarating memory, whose most poignant pain is that they have not so presented the Evangel as to have won vastly more trophies for the Master, and many, again, who wistfully yearn and agonisingly pray that the best days of grace they have known may be repeated and eclipsed by better seasons still; and all this makes impossible the thought that the Gospel is irrelevant and inadequate to the so sore needs of our own time. Thank God, there is a growing feeling abroad that yesterday's triumphs are the prolude only of vastly mightier victories yet to be achieved, for the Gospel is a treasure house of immeasurable wealth, most of which has yet to be turned to beneficent uses

To the biggest believers in the Gospel its most folder algost believes in the dispertite more ask if the Christ of yesterday's Gospel can solve to-day's problems and meet its colossal and clamant needs; prohems and these unbesidening's affirm that never was their faith so firm, their hope so strong. Let Dr. J. H. Jowett be the spokesman of these bright-hearted optimists. In his great sermon at Durham Cathedral the doctor said: "The Gospel of Christ, in working attire, proclaimed by a Church which believes it, is gloriously efficient to tremendous day. 'God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosever The gave fills only beginten you, that whetevers believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.' That Gospel of Jesus, preached by a Church that believes in it, lived by a Church that will give its blood for it, is the sure and certain secret of a comforted, purified, unified, regenerated and transfigured world."

Pegenerated and transfigured world." Can the Gospel meet the bolud and insistent demand which is being made for a better world'! Well unless it can, the golden dream is a bitter mockery. When Versailles gives use o unsatisfac-fory a peace and even the Lesgue of Nations hangs fire, what room is there for hope! Saint Brice (a caustic Frenchman), criticia-ing President Wilson's plea for the Lesgue of Nations, wrote: "The only thing lack-ing is the realisation of this admirable concep-tion is a new humanity. Does Wilson pretend to be able to change humanity!" The question is back once again at the beginnings, and the last word is the first: "Ye must be born again." There can be no new world unless there be new men and new women, and regeneration is not man's work—it is God's. No greater business could the Church undertako than to lead men to the One Source and Strength adequate both to generate the new life which they supremely need, and to provide that life with the forms of action through which it should do its work and bear its fruitage in the nation and throughout the world.

Can the Gospel meet and master the black evils which are menacing and devastating the world's life of to-day? What of a nation-disturbing anarchy, the wave of materialism, the down-dragging pleasure-loving, which seeks to invade even the white courts of God's house, the epidemio of debauchery and crime, the return to intemperance now that war restrictions are over, the surrender of idealism, the moral listlessness of multi-tudes, the neglect of the Eternal i Is Christ equal to handling these formidable foes i Once again, if Christ cannot, we are helpless and hope-less. But Christ can. He knows as no one else does that the miseries and failures of the world are all traceable, straight past everything second-ary and derivative to sin and irreligion, to wrong ary and derivative to sin and irrelation, to wrong and ignorance, and He meets sin with graco sbounding, drives out hate by love, and marvel-fously change the very core of personality, makes men new creatures. And the Gospel is intended to introduce men to Christ, and when preached pertinently, powerfully, persuasively, it does it, and the introduction means a new manhood and womanhood

Others of our present-day needs which the Others of our present-day needs which the Gospel can meet must go unmentioned, but still is it true "All my capacious powers can wish, in The doth richly meet." The loliest dreams can find fulliment, the noblest desires can come to fruition. The child, the youth, the mature, the aged, the siming, surrowing and suffering can all experience the adequecy of the Christ. Oh, for a faithful and fearless preaching of Him! On, that we all would cremate all the sermons that the Him of One wintills of Him slore, or deny rob Him of one scintilla of His glory or deny Him the meagrest measure of His power | Oh, that we followed after with impassioned ardour to know Him better that we might disburse His amazing wealth. "The more I love Him the better I can paint Him" said Gustave Doro; better I can paint Him "i said Gustave Dorć; and the more we love Him the better we will preach Him. Oh, that our churches would seriously discard all world-tending distractions so as to give Christ and His Goepel a chance! A bleeding world asks this—but God asks it even more.

Our Churches and People.

"The Turk Must Go."

There was a very large congregation at Prince's-avenue Church, Liverpool, on Sunday night last, when Dr. Guttery preached on the topic of "The Turk Must Go." In very forceful language the Doctor strongly protested against the surrender of the Government to Fuance and Chauvinian, and affirmed Government to Finance and Chauvennum, and animare that neither Parliament nor English public opinion had been fairly treated. He had, he stated, hitherto been a loyal supporter of the Government in its complex difficulties, but his forbearance had become exhausted in face of the shame(ul surrender that had been made to the most cruel government that had wer cursed the world. The large audience carried a resolution of protest against the continuance of the furblich rowar in Europe furkish power in Europe.

o CIOCK. Rev. R. M. Rutter has had to cancel his engage-ment to Bolton First Circuit for next year. His health improves in the South, and medical advice has led to this decision. We are glad hat every prospect of full recovery is given. He has been engaged for an eighth year at Bolton, which makes his removal a very great loss indeed. He will serve a circuit in the South.

The Sutton and Kirkby Circuit maintains its character for missionary enhusiasm, healthy pro-gress and spiritual lervour. Part of an important coalifield, its resources are great both in manhood and finance. Revs. A. Surtes and A. Griffiths, together with a large staff of workers, abound in toil but that colliery officials, leaders in the " "unions," and strong men representative of the industrial and serong met heapong are still in the felorexhip and service strong men representative of the industrial and economic schools are still in the fellowship and service of our Church. The "Bethel" 'factor is operative in Labour circles. At a recent "lowward movement" conference held at Kirkby the African Missionary Jubilee was advocated. The special feature was a Jubilee was advocated. The special feature was a tea-table conference, directed by the Mayor of Mans-field, Councillor F. Hardy.

On Defining Priceway. About inty years ago a clorgyman and his Jamily were at broakfast one man was a writer of books, some of which I hope you may read some day; but one of them I want you to read now if you can get it. He had writen a de-ightful hook for his three edder chill; lightful book for his three defer chill; bab mow three was another child; the baby boy, who was only four years old. baby boy, who was only four years old. The elder children said that a book must be written for him also.

The clergyman said nothing, but went sway to his study, and locked the door. An hour later he came back with the first chapter of his little boy's book, which he had just written. All the which had just written. All the other chapters were written as quickly and easily as this one. On one of the first pages you can read this: "To my youngest son, Grenville Arthur, and to all other good little boys:

read again and again. Even boys and girls who are over twenty years of age enjoy it. I was lucky enough to be in a class of boys in a day-school whose teacher read this book to them. And I read it now with even greater delight than I listened to it then.

At Work in Wales.

The need for organised week-day work is probably greater in villages and small towns than in large centres of population. The city and big town have many attractions and organisa-tions, but often in village and smaller tions, but often in village and smaller town there is practically nothing to appeal to youth and maiden. Here is the opportunity for the school and Church, and we are pleased to think there is a growing appreciation of the op-nings. Rev. W.

Rev. W. Overton reports good work in the circuit in which he serves. A company of the Boys' Life Brigade has been formed at Six Bells, and a de-mobilised member of the R.A.M.C. took Overton charge. This is as it should be, and for scores of trained men the open door of most useful service will be found in organised ascential ministry. Nevall-cited, the tillery, in a maccassful of the service will be found in of about hirly is composed of girls from the Sunday-school, with Mrs. E. Questions continue to be asked concerning this, and it is much to be desired that a full record should be made of organised work-Brigades, Scouts, Beserres, Cluba, Drill Classes, etc. Spring is a good time to test this made of organization Scouts, Beserves, Clubs, Drill Classes, etc. Spring is a good time to start this work, and I shall be pleased to sat leafets dealing with various movements to any interested perco. IN MEMORIAM.

Mr. Alfred Ward.

Stoke Newington Circuit has suffered a great loss by the death of Mr. Alfred Ward. Born at Little Canfield, Essex, he came to London when he was in his Teens. After his conversion he joined the London Fields Society. For over fifty years he was a church official, the whole period being spent in North and East London. In addition to London East London. In addition to London Fields he served successively Cathe-street, Woolberry, Whitechapel, North-wold-road churches, and hor the last eleren years was connected with the Stamford-hill Society. As a local preacher, class leader, trust secretary and society sleward his work was always' marked by Jaithfulness and efficiency. Probably his best errice was done in and society stewing his work was always marked by faithfulness and efficiency. Probably his best service was done in the pulpit, and he was instrumental in winning large numbers "for Christ and the Church."
