CATALOGUE OF THE ARABIC MANUSCRIPTS IN THE JOHN RYLANDS LIBRARY.

BY

A. MINGANA, D.D.

In Quarto, uniform with the Catalogues of the Coptic, Demotic, Greek, and Latin Manuscripts.

The forthcoming catalogue is the result of fifteen years of persistent labour on the part of Dr. Mingana. The collection under description, which we do not hesitate to say is one of the finest extant, except for a certain number of additions, formed part of the collection of MSS. acquired from the Earl of Crawford, in 1901. It comprises examples of surpassing beauty, including books written from beginning to end in letters of gold, of which there are three, and others executed with gold and coloured designs of remarkable workmanship. One copy of the "Kur'ān," apart from its beautiful ornamentation, and bold Nasxi characters, is one of the largest and heaviest manuscripts in existence. At one time it belonged to the Mosque of Medinah.

In point of age there are manuscripts of the second half of the eighth century, probably the earliest date at which any Qur'ānic manuscripts can safely be ascribed. The dated manuscripts in point of number and importance, compare favourably with those found in any other library. Furthermore, the collection exhibits many texts not only rare and incited, but absolutely unique. In the domain of theology alone there are more than sixty unique texts, and the number might be extended with equal success to all branches of science and literature.

We have indicated but a few of the interesting sections in a collection which numbers some four thousand separate texts or treatises.

The following Reprints of Articles by Professor Peake, and Professor Tout, which appeared originally in the "Bulletin," are still obtainable, at the prices indicated, upon application to the Librarian.
