

STEPS TOWARDS THE RECONSTITUTION OF THE LIBRARY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF LOUVAIN.

AT a meeting of the Council of the John Rylands Library, held in the early part of December last, the Governors resolved to give some practical expression to their deep feelings of sympathy with the authorities of the University of Louvain, in the irreparable loss which they have suffered, through the barbarous destruction of the University buildings and the famous library.

It was further decided that this expression of sympathy should take the form of a gift of books to be selected by the librarian from the stock of duplicates in the possession of the library, which have gradually accumulated through the purchase en bloc, from time to time, of large and special collections. The latter almost inevitably contain a certain proportion of works of which copies are already to be found upon the library shelves. Together with such duplicates it was agreed to present a set of the printed catalogues and other publications issued by this institution.

A list of the works forming the first instalment of the proposed gift, and numbering upwards of two hundred volumes, was drawn up to accompany this offer, when it was made to the authorities of the University, through the medium of Professor Dr. A. Carnoy, and it was a source of intense gratification to the Governors to learn that "these volumes"—to quote Professor Carnoy's own words—"will actually be amongst the very first ones which have been effectually given to the future University Library in Louvain. Your donation will have an important place in the reconstitution of our University, since it is one of the very first acts which tend to the preparation of our revival."

As the University is at present dismembered and without a home, we have undertaken, at the request of the Louvain authorities, to house the volumes, which thus form the nucleus of the new library, until such time as the new buildings are ready to receive them.

Since these preliminary steps were taken, it has occurred to the writer that there must be many other libraries and similar institutions, as well as private individuals, who would welcome the opportunity of sharing in this expression of practical sympathy, by taking part in the proposed reconstruction of the devastated library.

We gladly undertake, therefore, to receive and to be responsible for the custody of any suitable works which may be entrusted to us for this purpose.

We propose to institute a careful register of the names and addresses of the donors of such works, together with an exact record of their gifts, for presentation with the library, to serve as a permanent record of this modest attempt to demonstrate to the people of Belgium our grateful and heart-felt appreciation of the heroic sacrifices which they have made in their honourable determination to remain true to their pledges of neutrality.

It may be said that until a collection of books has been carefully classified and catalogued it is little better than a mob of books, and is of as little real service as a body devoid of the vitalizing power with which the breath of life endows it. Therefore it has been decided to give to this collection, whatever dimensions it may assume, the dignity of a live library, by classifying it according to the Brussels Extension of the Dewey Decimal Classification, and also by furnishing it with a carefully compiled catalogue, so that when the time comes for its transference to its new home, it may be placed upon the shelves prepared for its reception and be ready forthwith for use.

A careful perusal of Professor Van der Essen's interesting article, which accompanies this appeal, will enable readers to form an accurate idea of the nature of the former contents of the library, whose loss we so sorely deplore ; and will afford them some guidance as to the character of the works required for the rehabilitation of the library on lines similar to those along which it has been consistently developed since its original foundation.

In order to prevent a needless duplication of gifts the writer would regard it as a favour if those who decide to respond to this appeal would, in the first instance, send to him a list of the works which they propose to present, so that the register may be examined with a view of ascertaining whether any of the titles already figure therein.

The names of the donors, with a description of their gifts, will be published quarter by quarter in the pages of the BULLETIN.

The list of works forming the library's first contribution towards the new library is given below.
